

GOING BACK TO SCHOOL AT LONG MEADOW

I will be going back to school in September. I might not have not been in school for a long time because of the Coronavirus. The Coronavirus has made lots of people ill.

To stop people getting ill everyone has been told to keep some space between themselves and others (except for the people that live with us). When I go back to school, I will need to try to keep some space between me, the other children and the adults, this means not touching, holding hands or hugging but we can still talk and smile to each other.

I will be in my own classroom, my usual class will be with me every school day, this is called my 'consistent group'. I will have my new teacher, and they will look after and help me and will make my learning fun! I will stay with my class all day, although sometimes we might mix with the other class in my year group, I will eat my lunch in the classroom too!

I will have to sit at a table for more of my learning. I must try to stay in my chair. I will be sitting next to someone and we will all be facing the front. It is important I listen to what my teacher and other adults say because they are trying to keep everyone in school safe and well.

I will have to wash my hands a lot, so will my friends and the adults. Washing our hands keeps them clean and helps us to stay healthy.

Me and the children in my 'consistent group' will be able to go outside at break time and lunchtime to play games. I must try not to touch my friends, even when I am outside. We must listen carefully and stay where our teacher and other adults tell us.

School will be a little bit different when I go back but I will be back with my class, with my friends and will be doing some exciting learning that I can talk about when I get home. The adults in school are looking forward to seeing me too.
